UTAH AND HER NEIGHBORS

President Widtsoe Gives Interesting
Statement Regarding Observations on Western Trip.

"The great phosphate deposits of Utah, combined with the waste products of the fish industry of the Columbia, will make sufficient fertilizer to supply all the great West." This declaration was made by President John A. Widtsoe of the Utah Agricultural College after the completion of a recent three-weeks trip, together with Mrs. Widtsoe, through Idaho, Oregon and Washington. Dr. Widtsoe further explained that the fish business is the chief occupation of the people of the latter state. He made a thorough study of conditions in all three of these States, visited their various institutions of learning and observed the agricultural status. He was surprised at the tremendous growth and development that this section has experienced the last few years.

Degrees Bestowed at Summer School

It seems that the University of Washington is making some innovations. This visitor arrived in time to take part in the closing exercises of the summer session and to witness the giving of degrees to about thirty summer school students.

The University of Oregon and the Oregon Agricultural College the latter presided over by President W. A. Kerr, once president of the U. A. C., are doing good work. The people of the State are especially strong in their support of the agricultural training being given young people at the state agricultural institution.

The Reed College of Portland was of exceptional interest to Dr. Widtsoe. This school was founded by Mr. Reed, a Portland millionaire, and is now in its second year. The architecture and workmanship of its buildings is exceedingly beautiful and doubtless it has before it a great future. It is devoted to education in the liberal arts. Some reforms in Portland.

Portland has a fine school system. The school garden idea is developed to a remarkable extent. Also Superintendent Alderman is making some notable reforms. He is laying much stress on industrial education.

Recently, he proposed that school be held but half a day; that is, regular indoor classroom work. While a number of the Board of Education favor this plan, it has not been definitely decided upon. But the children are under authority and partial surveillance of the teachers at any place where they may happen to be throughout the day.

Why Not Utah Hops?

President Widtsoe visited the great hop fields of Oregon and pronounced the product not better than can be grown right here in Utah. He cannot see why this industry is not developed here at present, but opines that it will become important in the future.

The soil of the great Hood River orchard country, he avers, has been drained of its fertility. Now the farmers are being compelled to crop it with such plants as will enrich it.

Some time was spent by the Widtsoe party in Boise and vicinity. The farms of those parts are making a very good showing, with the exception of the long distance ones; that is, ones owned by eastern parties. The dry-farm results all up and down the State are a revelation. The products of these are considered by Idahoans in some parts to excel those of irrigated lands.

SWIMMING IS VERY POPULAR

That swimming is becoming a regular form of exercise in Logan is evidenced by the great demand upon the B. Y. C. swimming pool. The college authorities certainly made no mistake when they decided to open it for the people of Logan this summer. Hundreds of people go into the pool every day. The pool is open to the general public from the hours of 10 a. m. to 5 p. m. From 5 p. m. on it is usually occupied by private parties. The pool is emptied every week, besides it is thoroughly disinfected twice a week so there can be absolutely no danger of infection.

RETURN FROM 100 MILE HIKE

Troop 1 of Logan Scouts Under Leadership of Scout Master Paul Jones Have Pleasant Trip.

Troop 1 of the Logan Scouts completed their hundred mile hike to Bear Lake and return on Thursday, under the leadership of Scoutmaster Paul Jones. The party was composed of the Scoutmaster, George Wilkinson, Bertram Smith, Alton Woodside, David Christensen, Clyde Stoney, Clyde Woodside, and Clifton Bacon. Two pack horses were taken along to carry the blankets, grub and cooking utensils, and each boy carried a knapsack with his personal outfit in it. The crowd was divided into four squads for special duty each day, two boys being assigned to the care of the horse, two to cooking, two to getting wood, and two to washing dishes and "slopping." The squads changed each day and each boy got a variety of experience in all sides of camp life from cooking to throwing a diamond pitch on the packs.

The troop went over the right hand fork of Logan canyon, stopping at Mud Flat the first night and at Garden City the second. About five days were spent at Fish Haven, enjoying the boating and swimming, and on Monday the 18th the boys started on the most unique part of their trip. They went up an old log road to the top of Fish Haven mountain, then working along the ridge to the south, went through some sinks and the Swan Lakes, finally coming out on the ridge overlooking the sink hole country and Beaver Creek, and made their way down to the creek for camp.

Much of the way on top of the mountain was through fallen timber with no trail at all, part was along old cattle trails, and one of the ranger trails, and it was a most unusual experience for the boys. The troop camped at Little Bear Creek near Toney Grove, and at the Burnt bridge, where they went through Cottonwood cave. Then as the supplies were running short, they started out at 8:45 on Thursday morning and reached town a few minutes after one o'clock, tired, sunburned and somewhat dirty, but a happy crowd nevertheless.

Miss Nora Eliason, one of Logan's most talented vocalists has accepted an invitation to sing on Sunday at the Hotel Utah. The invitation was extended through Prof. J. J. McClellan who has in charge the Sunday evening concert at the Utah. These Sunday musical programs are becoming very popular in Salt Lake and are attended by the most distinguished citizens of the state metropolis. Logan and her people are to be congratulated upon having talent of such prominence that they can be featured upon such occasions.

Oh, You Bathing Girl of 1913! With Socks and Bonnet She Breaks Hearts of Summer Men.

The bathing girl of 1913 is now counting over her conquests of the bold hearts of men. She was some girl, as this typical picture of two of her will attest. Her newest fad in her beach maneuvers was wearing the sock bathing costume, just as you see here. Of course more summer men long ago learned not to be surprised by what the bathing beach girl does in the way of costuming. It's her privilege. The 1913 bathing girl also improved on her looks by wearing the bathing bonnet. It's a safe bet that a few such 1913 bathing girls got their hair wet.

BAND TO PLAY AT CARNIVAL

Logan Musicians to Appear Along
Side of Fifteen Bands in Salt Lake.

On Thursday of next week will open in Salt Lake City the stupendous Festive Carnival of the Wizard of the Waaatch. This will be the greatest celebration of its kind ever held in the Intermountain States and thousands of visitors will be in Salt Lake City for the occasion. For three days the festival will last and there will not be a minute during that time when there will not be something doing.

The Logan City brass band has been engaged to play in Salt Lake during the three days of festivities. Through the efforts of Manager Louis Edwards it has been made possible that the local band can appear along with fifteen other bands which will be in attendance, although the finances have not yet been fully taken care of. An appeal has been made to the local club and to the city officials for assistance which no doubt will be forthcoming.

ANOTHER RAID BY OFFICERS

With a room in the basement of the court house nearly full of intoxicating liquors, the city officers made another raid yesterday and added to their already large supply by collecting from the City Drug Store about 15 gallons of alcohol, perhaps a dozen bottles of beer, a small case of whiskey half pints, a few bottles of wine and gin and a large number of empty bottles. ## ENGAGEMENT IS ANNOUNCED

C. Elmer Barrett of This City to Wed
Instructor in Drawing at Weber
Academy

Ogden Aug. 22—While mathematics and drawing are two diametrically opposed subjects of the school curriculum it does not mean that the exponents of those studies are opposite poles of the magnet. At any rate they were not at the Weber academy last season. If the subjects did not attract the teachers did. Hence the announcement of the engagement of Miss Odessa Heniger, instructor in drawing, to C. Elmer Barrett head of the department of mathematics.

The wedding will take place at the Salt Lake temple August 29. The honeymoon will be spent in California and Mr. and Mrs. Barrett will make their home in Scofield, where the prospective bridegroom has accepted the position of principal of the high school.

The bride-elect is the daughter of Mrs. and Mrs. W. F. Heniger of this city. The couple will be at home after October 1.

THE LOGAN HOME BUILDING SOCIETY

The Logan Home Building Society fostered by the efforts of public spirited Logan Boosters, has been in operation now seven months. At its Directors' meeting Tuesday evening, the following report was read by the secretary: Three new homes have already been completed, three in course of construction, and four are being substantially improved, so that in all ten homes will stand as monuments to the society's first years existence; over $16,000 will have been put into homes of members; and the society is directly inducing the saving of $1,000 per month. The latter saving is in large measure money which would otherwise be spent in daily living.

At the outset, there were 1750 shares of installment stock subscribed. Since that over 250 shares have been applied for. The demand is so great for stock that the Directors have had to limit the number of available shares in series "one" and have placed quite a number on the waiting list for series No. "two" which opens February next.

In order to provide as much money as possible for immediate use of members, the Directors negotiated a loan of $10,000 which is to be paid back during the winter months when building is slack.

Besides the advantages which it offers to those intending to build, the home building society offers to those wishing to invest a safe remunerative investment. Out of town people are recognizing its investment opportunities and are sending in, asking for all that can be taken by any one person. They do not intend to build. They merely want to place their money where it will earn a reasonable rate of income. By placing their money with the society they are assisting Logan people to build homes. ## COMPLIMENT TO DR. GEO. THOMAS

Appointed One of Fifteen in United States to Conduct Correspondence
on Economic Conditions

Dr. George Thomas, head of the School of Commerce of the Utah Agricultural College, has been appointed by Thomas Nixon Carver, director of Rural Organization Service of the department of Agriculture, special correspondent for the Mountain States.

This service has just recently been organized by the Federal Government and the present plan is to appoint about fifteen correspondents throughout the country. The aim of this new service is to study and investigate the economic and social conditions, tenancy and farmers' organizations, and to suggest desirable improvements.

In the near future the Federal government expects to direct its attention more particularly to a consideration of the betterment of the economic conditions of the farmers, and provide credit institutions more nearly suited to their needs. This is one of the first steps in that direction.

In view of the fact that there are only fifteen of these correspondents for the whole United States, it is a distinct compliment to the Utah situation and to Dr. Thomas to receive the appointment.

Dr. Thomas has mailed his acceptance to Washington. The work is of such a nature that it will not interfere with his regular work at the college.

President Widtsoe is so enthusiastic over the new movement that he has kindly offered to provide such financial assistance as is necessary to supplement the government appropriation.

Prof. Carver was recently called from Harvard University to take charge of this work.

Another Blue Creek Visit—William Howell, manager of the Howell Bros. Clothing store, made another trip to the Blue Creek Valley on Thursday to inspect his holdings at that place.
